EDDIE PLANK IS NOT CONCERNED

Can Sign with Any Team at All and Close of Base Ball War will not Affect his Standing. Not under Contract.

Local interest in the end of the base ball war, which now seems to be assured, centers in the future activities of our own Eddie Plank. He stated this morning that he was entirely a free agent and could do whatever he pleased so far as his own plans are concerned. Several clubs are negotiating with him at this time.

Contrary to the impression prevailing among some fans, Plank's contract with the St. Louis Federal was for one year only and at the close of the 1915 season he was free to sign with whatever club he desired. The idea gained circulation here that he had signed a three year agreement but that, he declares, is entirely incorrect.

That the St. Louis Federal will not continue as a club representing that city is Plank's prediction. "There are too many clubs there already," he said this morning. "Both the Americans and the Nationals have teams playing in that city and there is no room for a third club."

The teams which have been negotiating with Plank for his services next year have deferred any final action until after peace is finally made in the present base ball war, and it is expected now that something definite will be determined upon before long. Eddie has no strings holding him and can go wherever he may choose.

NEW OXFORD

New Oxford—The I. C. Sewing Circle met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Rabine. There was a good attendance. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches and coffee were served.

Tuesday afternoon Officer Bensch arrested Mr. and Mrs. Ashelman, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The offenders were placed in the lock-up where they were given a chance to sober up. These were the first to occupy the new iron cells, which were recently installed by the town council. On Wednesday morning they were released without any fines.

The Ushers League of the Reformed church, New Oxford, held their monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the church. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Guy Miller; vice president, Paul Sponseller; secretary, Harry Weikert; treasurer, Samuel Hensel. Following the election the members enjoyed a banquet at Strausbaugh's Restaurant.

Joseph F. Rickrode spent Tuesday in Baltimore on business. Mrs. Mary Small, of McSherrytown, has returned home after a few days' visit to the family of John Yingling.

Chauncey Colestock, of Philadelphia, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Colestock.

END OF OLD CASE

Adams Countians Get Back Money Paid for Bonds.

E. E. Heindel, charged in 1912 with W. C. Riffert, with false pretense in selling to six Adams County persons bonds of an electric railroad which, it is said, did not exist, has settled the claims against him by paying back the amounts received at that time, and also the costs in the cases. W. C. Riffert made similar settlement in November 1913. Heindel has been in Ohio and Missouri and was located somewhat recently.

The six defendants who had purchased an aggregate of $4000 in bonds were Noah W. Sell, East Berlin; Allen J. March, Louis S. Wolf, Elizabeth Wolf, of Abbottstown; J. H. Dutterra and Dr. W. R. Snyder, New Oxford.

$50,000 CHURCH

FRUIT GROWERS' ANNUAL MEETING

Second Days Sessions of County Orchardists. Hear Discussions by Various Experts. Good Attendance.

With an attendance declared to be the best ever accorded the early sessions of an annual convention, the Fruit Growers Association of Adams County is carrying out successfully the ambitious program for their yearly meeting at Bendersville.

This morning two exceptionally interesting addresses were delivered. The one was by Dr. M. B. Waite, pathologist in charge of fruit disease investigations, Bureau of Plant Industry, Washington; and the other by Dr. R. L. Watts, dean and director of the School of Agriculture and Experiment Station at State College.

Dr. Waite brought a new method to the Adams County growers in the matter of coping with the fire blight which affected a number of orchards during the past summer. Instead of cutting out the affected parts, as has been the custom here, Dr. Waite recommended that the grower simply allow them to remain on the trees until the following winter when the diseased branches should be removed and, in this way, prevent the blight being continued during the following season.

Dr. Watts gave a lecture illustrated with a hundred slide, and telling clearly and interestingly about student life at Pennsylvania State College and the operations of the student work in connection with the study of agriculture. The attendance this morning was estimated at about two hundred.

The entertainment on Wednesday evening was given by Pamahasika and his famous pets. It drew the largest audience ever present at an evening attraction of the convention. His work with cats, usually believed to be the most difficult animals to train, was remarkable, as were the canaries, dogs, macaws, and other birds and animals.

Most attractive is the display of apples which has been arranged at the Fruit Growers' Hall. It is in no sense competitive but is placed there to acquaint visitors with the quality and varieties of fruit grown in this county. There are twenty boxes and two hundred plates of fine fruit, and two boxes of evaporated apples, in all making a very interesting and highly creditable exhibit.

MARCH OUT QUIETLY

Nearby Town Has Successful Drill when Smoke Fills Building.

The effectiveness of the school fire drill was demonstrated on Wednesday at a building in Hagerstown where nearly 1,200 pupils are located. The chimney took fire from an overheated furnace and smoke rapidly began to fill the big structure. The pupils of the various rooms were marched out according to the drills regularly given, and the big building was emptied in less than two minutes without any disorder and with no accidents. A nearby fire company extinguished the fire. There was no damage to the building.

SLOW TO SELECT THEIR SALE DATES

Believe that Next Season is Going to be Good One and Many Farmers are Making their Plans. No Hindrances.

Auctioneers who handle the hundreds of sales in Adams County each year say that not for many seasons have the farmers been so slow in selecting their dates. It is evident from the numerous inquiries received by the sale criers that the number of sales to be held will be fully as large as formerly but, for some reason or other, there is a hesitancy about selecting dates.

The sales this coming January, February, and March should be among the best for some time. Last year the hoof and mouth disease quarantine confronted farmers in many of the townships and made things unpleasant for them; not only in holding their sales but through deterring buyers from other counties who could not remove stock bought here without going through a lot of red tape. This year no such condition prevails and there is nothing to prevent the sales being held and buyers from any other state coming here to get stock. Nearby portions of Maryland frequently furnish buyers at the sales in the lower end of this county.

Good stock will bring good prices, this year, say the auctioneers, while stock of indifferent merit may be expected to yield low returns. This has always been the case, claim those who follow the sales, and even last year, when generally it was believed that prices were low, the auctioneers and clerks claimed that horses and cattle of good quality brought what they were worth.

The Times is being sought as usual by farmers selecting their dates and the list at this office contains a large number of names. Publication of the list will be started early enough to give all the desired information in ample time, while others who wish to consult the list before publication may see it at this office at any time.

Realizing the wide circulation of The Times in the county farmers are already arranging for their advertising in this paper. They know that it reaches far more homes than any other paper published in the county and will accordingly place their advertising where it will do the most good. We make no effort to divert advertising from other papers. It will do some good wherever it is placed, but The Times' circulation insures the greatest amount of good when published in its columns.

MADE NO MONEY

Conscientious Manufacturers Merely Even on Peace Orders.

That his own concern has not made a dollar since the war began and that he believes other prominent manufacturers of York to be in the same plight, was declared by A. B. Farquhar, of York, peace advocate and head of the A. B. Farquhar Company, widely known as makers of farm implements. He attributed the condition to rejection of war orders, which stand he defended.

"We are constructive, do not care to have our regular business disorganized by making things to kill people," he asserted. He said that he believes with President Wilson that the depression is largely psychological.

DU PONTS GET LAND NEAR YORK

Speculation Follows Transfer of Deed for Old Powder Mill Site. Similar Transfer Made Near Harrisburg.

A transfer of property has been filed for record in the office of the recorder of deeds of York county, whereby Alexis I. duPont of Wilmington, Del., a member of the explosive manufacturing company, has transferred a tract of land, south of York, to E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., the successors to the old duPont Powder company, for a nominal consideration. The purpose of the transfer has not been made public.

The old powder mill which is built on the land transferred was formerly owned by the old duPont estate and was transferred to Alexis I. duPont in December, 1913. The mill is located along what is known as the old powder mill road.

During the Civil War the mill was occupied by the manufacturers of powder for the United States government. Following the war for a brief period the mill continued to manufacture explosives for the government, but then suspended operations.

It is suggested that possibly the duPont company contemplates constructing a storage house on the land or erecting an auxiliary plant.

A transfer of a similar property near Harrisburg is also announced.

300 BUCKS KILLED

Arendtsville Camp and L. L. Taylor Win the Laurels.

The close of the deer season on Wednesday saw the completion of a record which it is believed has not been equaled for many years. In addition to the many bucks shot by individual hunters the following were brought down by the Adams County camps: Arendtsville, 14; Brysonia, 12; Monterey, 8; Kane, 5; Taylor, 5; McKnightstown, 4; Marsh Creek, 4; Cashtown, 4.

It is estimated that over the mountains usually covered by hunters from Adams, Franklin, and Cumberland counties 300 bucks have been shot. Thirty does were killed by men too hasty with their firearms. Only one of these, so far as is known, was apprehended and fined, Mr. Truby of the Fayetteville Camp. The Locked Antlers Club also paid a $100 fine for taking a buck the horns of which did not extend for two inches above the hair.

To L. L. Taylor, of Gettysburg, belongs the distinction of killing the largest buck, one with fifteen points.

The Mount Hope camp got two deer this week, George Kint shooting an eight prong, 188 pound, buck on Monday; and Samuel Culp an eight prong, 202 pound, buck on Wednesday.

WOULD PREVENT HOLIDAY FIRES

Gives Many Instructions to be Followed if Disasters are to be Avoided during the Happy Days of Christmas.

Christmas is approaching and with it comes anxious moments for the safety of children who, heretofore, have been permitted to have full sway during these festive days and many instances are recorded where anguish has resulted, caused by accidents occurring by reason of the careless handling of matches and the use of inflammable material for decorative purposes.

State Fire Marshal Joseph L. Baldwin gives the following advice to prevent fire during the holiday season:

Let us make this Christmas holiday carefree and happy by adopting precaution against the possibility of accidents caused by fire.

Let us make it so, by caution and the avoidance of carelessness in the handling of Christmas tree decorations. Flimsy decorations should never be used. They have been the cause of much sadness and many deaths. Let us try to make our state the banner state in freedom from distressing casualties, caused by thoughtless carelessness. Be happy and use care not to mar this happiness.

Many entertainments will be given in homes, schools, churches, bazaars, and stores. Remember that light, inflammable decorations make easy fires. Avoid their use. Decorations of no kind should be used near gas jets. An air current may cause a disastrous fire.

Where possible, electricity should be used for lighting trees or for decorative purposes and the wiring should be done by a competent electrician.

If trees are to be lighted, other than by electricity, see that the children do not light or re-light the candles. Frequently clothing is set afire by permitting this. Avoid the possibility. The tree will also burn when dry. Better no lights than to run the risk of having an innocent child lose its life through neglect to observe precaution for its safety.

Paper, cotton, or other decorations of an inflammable material should never be used. Use metallic tinsel or asbestos material.

See that trees are securely fastened to the floor, so that the children cannot pull the tree over when reaching for things.

Never permit cotton to be used beneath trees, to give the appearance of snow. If the appearance of snow is desired, for any purpose, use mineral wool or asbestos. It will not burn and gives a better effect than cotton.

STILL UNDER TREATMENT

Child Kicked by Horse in Serious Condition.

Clarence, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Neiderer, residing on the William Jenkins farm, near Irishtown, who was kicked on the head by a horse, December 8 is lying in the West Side Sanatorium, York, in a serious condition. The child fell against the hind legs of a horse being led into the stable by his father. The animal was frightened and kicked, striking the child on the top of the head and causing a fracture several inches long. He was treated by the family physician and then removed to the hospital for an operation.

BULGARS STOP AT GREEK LINE

Teutons Pursue Allies Across the Border.

FIGHTING IN MONTENEGRO

Austrians Pushing Advance Into Country—Anglo-French Retreating Toward Salonika.

London, Dec. 16.—A Geneva despatch carries a report that German troops have invaded Greece in pursuit of the French and English.

There is no confirmation of this from any source. Other rumors that Bulgarian troops have crossed the border are officially denied by the Greek government, according to an Athens despatch, which says:

"The press unanimously declares that the presence of Bulgarians in Greek Macedonia would arouse national indignation. The situation arising from the retreat of the allies to Greek territory and the approach of Bulgarian troops is pre-occupying official circles, but competent persons consider their entry most improbable."

According to advices from Paris, a big area of Greek territory has been devastated, the allies destroying everything as they fell back.

Greece's situation diplomatically has been complicated by the request of Germany to know whether the Athens cabinet does not look upon the use of Greek territory by the entente allies as a breach of her neutrality.

However, it is not believed that the Germans have many troops in that part of the Balkans, their main forces having been diverted to Rostok when the Russian threat of an invasion of Bulgaria seemed likely of early fulfillment.

General von Gallwitz, with an army of 60,000 Germans, is reported in Salonika advices, to have left his camp near Philippopolis and to be marching toward the Russian front.

An official Montenegrin report says, under date of Tuesday:

"A battle has begun. Our Sanjak and Herzegovina armies are engaging the Austrians. The issue is undecided as yet."

The Austro-Hungarian army of General von Kovecs has penetrated to the Tara river on its invasion of Montenegro, a distance of nearly twenty miles into the interior, it was officially reported by the Austrian war office. Three hundred and forty soldiers and 150 civilians of military age were captured.

It has again been reported that the Italians have landed an army on the Albanian coast to go to the assistance of the Serbs and Montenegrins.

Athens advices say that Greece has withdrawn all troops from Salonika, except one division (12,000 men), under Col. Guemrakakis. It is said the Austro-Hungarian consulate has advised Austrian subjects to quit the city.

The latest information obtainable is that the allied front is extended as far as Kukus, in Greece, about twenty-five miles north of Salonika. The retreat is being carried on under favorable conditions, enabling the allies to preserve all their war material. It is said the German and Bulgarian forces in the Glevell section consist of nine divisions, three German and six Bulgarian. (A division is 12,000 men.)

A Bulgarian war office statement declaring that the pursuit of the entente forces had been stopped, says: "This is the day of liberation for Bulgarian Macedonia."

"It must be stated that the French troops fought bravely—much more gallantly than the British. Our troops were opposed by 57,000 French and about 73,000 British, or more than 170,000 men all told. The allies were supported by 600 field guns, 120 mountain guns and 50 heavy howitzers."

Grecian Blockade Off

Athens, Dec. 16.—Premier Skouloudis was informed by the entente ministers that the blockade of the Greek coast had been lifted and that no further coercive measures would be taken against Greek commerce.

Seven steamships bound for Greece which have been detained at Marseilles, have been allowed to proceed.

CONSUL INVOLVED BY AGENT IN PLOT

Three German Officials at San Francisco Named.

Providence, R. I., Dec. 16.—The Journal prints the text of an affidavit made by Johannes Henrykus Van Koolbergen, in San Francisco, August 27 last, which goes into much circumstantial evidence with regard to an alleged organized German conspiracy on the Pacific coast to blow up munitions plants, on which indictments have been returned by a federal grand jury in San Francisco against Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken, C. C. Crowley and Mrs. Margaret Cornell.

The affidavit asserts that Franz Bopp, German consul general at San Francisco, personally supervised the activities of Van Koolbergen and directed the attempt to hire him to blow up tunnels on the Canadian Pacific railroad last May.

Another assertion is that Bopp ordered $1500 for this work to be paid to Van Koolbergen under the impression that the work had been accomplished, when, as a matter of fact, Bopp was misled by Canadian Pacific officials working in conjunction with Van Koolbergen, who caused reports to be printed in the Canadian newspapers, telling of the destruction of important tunnels by mysterious accidents.

It also is alleged that von Brincken who was Bopp's assistant in the San Francisco consulate, worked out details of the plot, and that he and Bopp went over maps of the Canadian Pacific railway with Van Koolbergen, in the consulate, and told Van Koolbergen where to blow up tunnels which would interfere most with the transportation of munitions of war.

GEN. FRENCH RECALLED

General Haig to Command British Army in France.

London, Dec. 16.—Lieutenant General Sir Douglas Haig has been appointed to succeed Field Marshal Sir John French in command of the British armies in France and Flanders.

Ever since Sir John French has been in command of the forces in France there has been friction and two of the best generals in the army, Sir Douglas Haig and General Dorian-Smith, finally refused longer to serve under him.

Now Sir Douglas, who is called the best soldier in the British army, is made commander-in-chief of all the armies fighting against the Germans in France.

AUSTRIAN CABINET TAKES UP U. S. NOTE

Expect Conciliatory Reply to Ancona Demands.

DISPUTE AMERICAN STAND

Washington Will Hold to Stand and Will Not Accept Evasion—German Paper Hopes Austria Will Not Yield.

London, Dec. 16.—A despatch from Geneva says a special meeting of the Austro-Hungarian cabinet has been called to consider the note of the United States demanding disavowal of the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona and reparation for the lives of Americans lost on her.

The despatch added that, despite the resentment against the tone of the American note, it is believed the Austrian government will deliver a conciliatory reply.

The note is regarded in Vienna as weak in one important point, which may deprive it of its foundation.

This concerns the position taken that the Austro-Hungarian government should be familiar with the attitude of the American government regarding the freedom of the seas, because President Wilson had explained this to the German government, thus implying that Austria, as Germany's ally, should be acquainted with the principles laid down and desired by Washington.

Against this stand, the objection is raised that the government has knowledge of the negotiations in the Lusitania case only through the newspapers, that it could give to these reports no diplomatic value, and that it has not concerned itself in any way with the Lusitania case.

Says Austria Will Not Yield

Essen, Rhenish Prussia, Dec. 16.—The Rhenish Westphalian Gazette expresses the conviction that Austria-Hungary will never disavow the sinking of the Ancona, nor punish the commander of the submarine, adding:

"The demands addressed by the neutral American government to Austria are as unexampled as the tone of the note is arrogant, and the only conclusion possible is that the Union wishes at all costs to bring about the same conflict with Austria-Hungary as with Germany."

"Since two American notes are awaiting answers, we may wait to see how the game of notes comes out. The Austrians need not make more haste to reply than the British."

Will Not Accept Evasion

Washington, Dec. 16.—Secretary of State Lansing conferred with President Wilson at the White House. He denied word had been received from Austria regarding the note of the United States on the sinking of the Ancona.

Officials are inclined to believe that Austria's reply to the note will be conciliatory, because of pressure by Germany. It was made plain at both the White House and the state department that, if the reply should be of a temporizing character, it would not be satisfactory.

Any contention that Austria was not advised of the position taken by the United States in its discussions with Germany on submarine warfare will not be accepted.

DUM DUMS MADE IN U. S.

Accused Conspirator Makes Charge Against Connecticut Factory.

New York, Dec. 16.—Charges that a Bridgeport, Conn., factory accepted a contract from the British government to supply the British army with dum dum bullets, were made in an affidavit filed with Assistant United States Attorney Kne. by Dr. Herbert Kienzie.

Dr. Herbert Kienzie is one of five men indicted with Robert Fay on a charge of conspiring to blow up ships carrying munitions to the allies. His affidavit is in support of a motion for a separate trial and the appointment of a commission to take evidence in his behalf in Germany. A similar motion was made for Englebert Bronckhorst, another defendant.

Dr. Kienzie says he submitted proofs to the United States government of the alleged traffic in dum dum bullets, and that that was his only connection in any way with German propaganda in the country.

Ford Peace Ship at Kirkwall

London, Dec. 16.—Henry Ford and his pacifists are at Kirkwall. The fighting peace ship Oscar II was due at Christiansand, nearly 400 miles east of the Scotch port, where she brought up, but had evidently been delayed by storms. It is believed the authorities will hold her only a few hours and then allow her to proceed on her errand to the trenches.

Explosion Destroys Super-Zeppelin

Copenhagen, Dec. 16.—A report of the destruction of the super-Zeppelin L-22 was received from Schleswig by a Copenhagen newspaper. It is said nearly all the forty members of the crew were killed or wounded. The disaster is said to have been due to the accidental explosion of a bomb as the airship was leaving its shed.

ALLIES TO SEARCH NEUTRAL VESSELS

Policy Shown in Hold-Up of Two Spanish Steamers.

New York, Dec. 16.—The announced policy of France and England of searching neutral vessels at sea for subjects of countries with which the allies are at war was further evidenced by information that the Spanish steamship Montevideo, from Spanish ports, was twice held up and examined during her voyage to New York where she arrived.

Passengers said that on November 30, when the ship was twenty miles off Cadiz, she was stopped by the French cruiser Casard and held four hours while officers inspected the papers of all passengers, who were assembled in the dining room. Every one proved his citizenship satisfactorily, and no one was taken off.

5 DEER FROLIC IN TOWN

Licensed Hunters Were Away and Game Returns to Hills.

State College, Pa., Dec. 16.—While all the licensed deer hunters of Pine Grove Mills were scouring the Seven Mountains for their last shots of the season, five big deer, two bucks and three does, came into the village and spent most of the day feeding in the fields and drinking from the town reservoir.

Everyone of the three hundred villagers went to see the animals, but not one of the stay-at-homes had a license to shoot the game.

The deer were surrounded and herded together until, at nightfall, in hopes that some disappointed but legalized hunter would return home and shoot the bucks. But none came and the deer went into the hills, safe for another year.

SAFE CONDUCT FOR ATTACHES

Captains Boy-Ed and von Papen Will Sail for Germany Next Tuesday.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, personally delivered to the state department the safe conduct guarantees of the allied governments for Captains Boy-Ed and von Papen, the recalled German attaches.

The safe conduct will be unconditional, it having been decided by the allies not to require the officers to give pledges to refrain from participation in the war after reaching Germany. No request has been made for safe conduct of their successors.

U-Boat Sunk Off Varna

Paris, Dec. 16.—The correspondent at Athens of the Milan Secolo says that a German submarine has been sunk in the Black sea off the Bulgarian port of Varna and that a Turkish torpedo boat had been sunk in the sea of Marmora by the British. The Turkish cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the German warship Goeben, came out into the Black sea, the correspondent adds, and was torpedoed, though the vessel was not seriously damaged.

For Bronchitis, Severe Coughs
Colds And Whooping Cough

Make the Best Medicine at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 Cents.

Money spent for the old style, ready made medicine usually sold in bottles holding only 2 to 2 1/2 ounces (16 to 20 teaspoonful) is largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it were all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better remedy for bronchial affections, at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to The People's Drug Store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, which they guarantee will give perfect satisfaction or money will be refunded. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold, Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough. One bottle will make enough home-made medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take. It is unlike any other medicine, and positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist in this city, will return the money (just the same as is done with Schiffmann's famous Asthma-dor) in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy—under this positive guarantee.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which The People's Drug Store, the popular druggists are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell The People's Drug Store that you want your money back and they will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

The People's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-o-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

WORLD WATCHING
CHINESE EMPIRE

Return to Monarchical Form of Government Most Unusual.

ACTION WAS NOT A SURPRISE

Conditions in That Country Make the Old Form More Desirable, According to China's Leading Men—Japan Had Warned Her Not to Abandon the Republic Form.

The action of the Chinese council of state in offering the throne to President Yuan Shih Kai has aroused keen interest all over the world, as it is most unusual for a republic to return to the monarchical form of government once the American method has been given a fair trial. But it is pointed out that conditions in China make the old form more desirable.

Indications that the republic, which was established on Feb. 12, 1912, after centuries of Manchu rule, would be succeeded by a monarchy, with Yuan Shih Kai as emperor, began to appear in August, 1914. The movement to restore the monarchy has received great impetus because of the humiliation of China by Japan last spring. Although China escaped, for a time at least, the necessity for accepting the most menacing of the Japanese demands, the weakness of the republic in the face of its powerful neighbor was fully exposed, and Chinese patriots looked to the re-establishment of a monarchy as a method of increasing the country's strength.

Many dispatches received recently from China have expressed fear that Japan may take active steps to prevent the return to a monarchy. The abortive attempt at a revolution in China a few days ago originated in Shanghai, where the revolutionists were armed and supported by foreign influence, it was said.

In opposing the return to a monarchy Japan has had the support of the other entente powers, which made representations before the announcement on Nov. 7 that fifteen of the eighteen provinces had voted in favor of a monarchy, urging that a change was undesirable as tending to lessen the stability of conditions and possibly to lead to internal disturbances which might endanger the peace of the orient.

The Answer to Japan.
China's reply was that the government of China was well able to control internal conditions and that there would be no such danger as the entente powers apprehended. It was made clear that China had decided to disregard all protests by an official mandate dated Nov. 15. This read: "According to the report of the minister of foreign affairs, Mr. Obata, the Japanese charge d'affaires, has under instructions from his home government tendered friendly advice to the Chinese government, requesting the latter to postpone the adoption of the monarchy to the future on the ground that if the change is brought about too suddenly it may cause some unrest or disturbance in the country which would jeopardize the interests of the various friendly powers, etc. The possibility of some unrest or disturbance which the Japanese government mentions in the advice has already been anticipated by the government, and inquiries have already been made by the headquarters of the commander in chief of the army and navy of the civil and military authorities in the provinces on different occasions regarding their ability to maintain peace and order in the different localities of the provinces in the event of a change in the form of state being brought about. "The provincial officials, both civil and military, have all replied, expressing full confidence in their ability to maintain peace and order. The anxiety manifested by the Japanese government for the peace and order of this country may probably have been caused by its lack of full information about the real internal conditions in this country, and hence its friendly advice. The Japanese government, it must be understood, had declared that its advice to the government of this country should not be interpreted as an interference with the internal affairs of this country, nor should it be considered that the Japanese government is insisting upon our following its advice. The matter should be clearly explained to the press and other similar organs in this country and warnings given against the publication of any reckless comment on this subject, which, it is feared, might tend to injure the friendly relations between this country and other powers."

ONLY ONE "HAND UP," KILLED

Robbers Did Not Realize That Their Victim Was One Armed.

One armed Michael McCarthy was shot and killed by two men who held up a St. Louis saloon because at their command of "Hands up!" he raised only the arm left him. One sleeve of McCarthy's coat hung empty, its end in the coat pocket. The robbers apparently thought he was reaching for a revolver.

Half a dozen men were in the saloon when the robbers entered. At their command all hands went up. The robbers took one glance at McCarthy's hanging sleeve, fired and fled.

PERISCOPE HALTS MASHERS.

Little Mirror on Hat Makes Flirting Dangerous and Difficult.

The newest turn in millinery in Chicago is the periscope bonnet, by means of which the path of the home town masher has been paved with thistles. The novel skypiece has a mirror placed at a convenient angle in the upper deck, and the wearer can see all that occurs for a distance of a block behind her.

When a masher turns, admires, adjusts his cravat and starts on the big pursuit the wearer of the periscope novelty can begin making ready to bring the old family umbrella down with accuracy and force upon a reasonably vacant pate.

Three young women acting as mannikins for a millinery establishment walked down State street and gave what was for a time an almost unending exhibition of "sousing." As soon as any of the idle and beautiful mashers who are to be found in State street began to follow the three ladies they turned at a signal and stared at the hurrying Lothario in their frostiest manner. For a time it was considered very mysterious, but a glint of the sun caught the mirrors and explained all.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WHOLESALE HOLIDAY CANDIES.

HOMEMADE candies are best for the little folks. Homemade bonbons are nice to serve with the New Year's dinner or at the New Year's party. They should be well shaped, the directions for making them being followed with care.

Chocolate Kisses.—Take two ounces of chocolate and one pound of sugar, mix thoroughly, beat up the whites of two eggs and add. Drop on buttered paper and bake in a slow oven.

Fruit Candies.

Stuffed Dates.—Take the seeds from large dates, fill the holes with fondant and roll in powdered sugar. A chocolate coated peanut makes a good "stuffed" nut. If you wish try a large English walnut in the date.

Prune Bonbons.—Take half a pound each of prunes and of sugar, half a teaspoonful of water, a few bleached almonds and a little desiccated coconut. Cut the prunes and remove the stones, inserting the almonds instead. Boil the sugar and water together exactly five minutes, pour into a basin and stir with a wooden spoon until it becomes creamy. Dip each prune in it; roll in desiccated coconut.

Nut Bonbons.

Walnut Creams.—Make a cream as for chocolate drops and mold into balls. Place the half of an English walnut on either side of each ball and press into the cream. The cream prepared thus can be used for different kinds of candy. Small pieces of fruit and nuts can be inclosed in the cream. Chocolate may be mixed with it, and if strong, clear coffee is used in place of water the candy will have the coffee flavor and color, which some people like.

Brown Cocoa Candy.—Take one large coconut, two pounds of brown sugar and one pint of water. Melt the sugar and water together, boil to 250 degrees. Remove pan from the fire and drain the sirup by rubbing it with the spatula against the sides of the pan until it begins to look cloudy. Add the coconut, thinly sliced, and stir until the mixture is quite thick; then turn into a lightly oiled tin, mark with a knife into bars or squares and when set break up at the marks.

WED TO DEAD SOLDIER.

Government Will Recognize Ceremony and Grant Pension to Widow.

The custom of marriage by proxy, which has come into vogue during the war, has placed a young Parisian woman in a curious situation. She was married by proxy on Nov. 17 to Sergeant Joseph Conduche. On Dec. 1 she was informed officially that Sergeant Conduche had been killed at Sonchiet on Sept. 28, several weeks before the marriage.

Although the marriage is invalid in law, the authorities, taking account of Sergeant Conduche's intentions, will give a widow's pension to the bereaved woman.

Hope For Hairless.

Dr. Robert B. Clark of Monroe, Wis., insanity expert, says hairless domes indicate sanity. He said: "I have examined several hundred patients as to their sanity. I have had the opportunity of studying many hundreds of others, and in all my experience I have yet, with a single exception, to see an insane man who was baldheaded."

Gettysburg Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Gettysburg story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. Mary Ohler, 147 Hanover St., Gettysburg says: "I was troubled by weak kidneys for over a year. My back ached constantly and pains extended from my loins into my head. I had chills and dizzy spells and was bothered by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that I finally procured a box at the People's Drug Store and commenced their use. A few doses brought relief and, after using them for a short time, all symptoms of the trouble disappeared." (Statement given Nov. 1, 1915).

A WILLING CORROBORATION

At a later date Mrs. Ohler said: "I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again and confirm all I have previously said about them. This medicine should have a permanent place in every household."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ohler has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

Medical Advertising TRY THIS IF HAIR STARTS FALLING

Some Good Advice For Those Threatened With Baldness.

At this season of the year many people find their hair coming out at an alarming rate and often fear baldness. This may very easily be the ultimate result if proper scalp treatment is not taken at once. All excessive loss of hair can be almost immediately stopped by the use twice daily of a little Parisian Sage which invigorates and nourishes the slowly dying hair roots into a renewal of healthy normal action. New hair quickly grows on the thin spots, old hair stops falling and the difference is apparent in a few days by the very look of the hair itself taking on new life, lustre and beauty. Parisian Sage can be obtained from The People's Drug Store or any good druggist. It is not expensive.

WORKMEN FIND BODY IN TRUNK

Was Buried in Cellar of House in Philadelphia.

SIGNS POINT TO MURDER

Man Apparently Was Killed by a
Blunt Instrument and Then Jammed into Receptacle.

Philadelphia, Dec. 16.—Police activity in the Frankford trunk mystery centered in the finding of Edward F. Keller and Edward J. Conery, partners in an unsuccessful laundry venture at Adams and Kensington avenues, where two workmen excavated a trunk in which was the decomposed body of a man.

Conery is employed at the powder plant at Carney's Point, where word was sent to the Dupont police asking them to find him.

Detectives are trying to find Keller. They found that in September, 1914, he had moved from his home, saying he was going to New York to take a position.

The body was lying on its left side. The signs were that the man had been killed by some blunt instrument and then hurriedly jammed into the trunk, which was of the pattern known as "steamer." Line was found beside the body. It is believed this slacked so that it ate into the corpse, making identification impossible except through a notebook, which was found in one of the pockets. This, however, did not bear any owner's name, but on the fly leaf contained a number of addresses and figures, which the police are using as clues.

The torso was decomposed, but the lower part of the trunk was in fair condition. On the legs were trousers of a blue serge suit, such as would have been the attire of a man well-to-do, while on the feet were a pair of number eight black oxford shoes. The laces showed little signs of wear.

The trunk was inclosed in a huge packing box and the condition of the receptacle and the fact that the nails had barely begun to rust led the police to believe that the trunk, with its contents, had not been buried more than a year. The place where the body was found was occupied by Keller & Conery, as the Red Star Wet Wash laundry for three months prior to January 1 last, when the partners separated. Conery carried along the business for a time, but he found it unprofitable and quit.

The discovery of the body was accidental. Lewis Dehman and George Zeigenfuss, workmen, started to dig a cellar for a saloon. They went to a depth of six feet, when Dehman's pick struck a bulky object and sank into it a few inches.

After Dehman had cleared away the debris he discovered a packing box, about forty inches long, four feet high and about two feet wide. He and Zeigenfuss started to lift it to the surface and found that it was heavy. "Pick off the cover," said Zeigenfuss, "and we'll see what's in the thing."

When the trunk was disclosed Zeigenfuss felt that there was a mystery about the find, and so told Dehman to run around the corner and notify the police station.

Patrolmen hurried to the place, and together with Zeigenfuss and Dehman lifted the trunk to the floor. They unstrapped it and the cover fell down, revealing the body inside. The corpse was that of a man about five feet six inches tall, who had weighed about 125 pounds. The hair was brown. The features had been destroyed. The clothes were of summer weight and the shirt had a pin-stripe badly faded.

SLAYER OF HUSBAND JAILED

Mrs. Stringfellow to Spend Not Less Than 5½ Years in Penitentiary.

Media, Pa., Dec. 16.—Mrs. Catharine Stringfellow, who pleaded guilty to second degree murder at the September term of court of the killing of James Brown, in Chester, last May, was sentenced by Judge Johnson to the Eastern penitentiary for a term of not more than six or less than five and one-half years and to pay a fine of $10 and costs of prosecution.

Mrs. Stringfellow heard the sentence with the same coolness that has marked her demeanor throughout the trial.

Asks $85,000 for Navy Fliers

Washington, Dec. 16.—A special government laboratory and highly trained technical force to develop military and naval aircraft were recommended in the first annual report of the naval advisory committee on aeronautics, transmitted to congress by President Wilson. The commission asked for $85,000 to build proper apparatus and to get together a force of technical aeronautic experts.

Find Man Frozen to Death

Philadelphia, Dec. 16.—The body of a man believed to have been George Boden, no home, was found on the west bank of the Schuylkill river, near the Penrose Ferry bridge by workmen. From the condition of the body when it was discovered it was evident that Boden had been frozen to death.

SEEK COLORED ASSAILANT

Girl Found Unconscious in Barn and Hired Man Gone.

Elkton, Md., Dec. 16.—Miss Bertha Martin, a fourteen-year-old white girl, was assaulted by a colored man, on the Dunbar farm, two miles north of Elkton. The girl accuses Elmer Biddle, a farm hand.

Mr. Dunbar and his sons were in Elkton attending court. The girl was sent to the barn for a pail of water. While at the pump, she says, Biddle crept up behind her, seized her by the throat and dragged her into the stable. She fought desperately, but her strength soon failed and she fell unconscious. She was found by Mrs. Dunbar, who was attracted to the barn by the flight of Biddle from the barn.

The grand jury, which is in session for its December term of court, returned an indictment against Biddle, who has not been captured, although a large posse is searching for him. Biddle is about thirty-five years of age, married and has several children.

URGE TAX EXTENSION TO MEET BIG DEFICIT

Measure to Supply Shortage of $81,525,500.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Treasury estimates that receipts in 1916 will fall by $81,525,500 to meet disbursement, including a $10,000,000 postal deficit, are cited by the house ways and means committee majority report on the revenue tax extension filed as evidence of necessity for additional taxation. It is estimated that extension of the law until December 31, 1916, would provide $8,800,000 a month.

Revenue from distilled spirits, fermented liquors and tobacco decreased $25,900,000 in the last fiscal year, the report says. Treasury estimates of ordinary internal revenue receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, are $272,000,000, compared with $254,398,760 last year, thus indicating a further anticipated reduction from this source of more than $11,000,000.

The bill was reported back to the house favorably, when party leaders have requested all members to be present in anticipation of a party fight. Mr. Kitchin, the majority leader, says, however, that its enactment by the end of this week is certain.

CROPS SET NEW RECORD

1915 Yield is Valued at $5,568,773,000,
Highest Ever Known.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The nation's harvests this year have surpassed any ever before recorded.

The value of the principal farm crops, based on prices paid to farmers December 1, was announced by the department of agriculture in its final estimate at $5,568,773,000, making 1915 a banner year both in value and in production of crops.

With the price of grain soaring as the war progressed, American farmers began the season by planting greater areas to grain. The acreage of the principal crops this year aggregated approximately 486,579 square miles. That is larger than the combined area of Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Switzerland.

M'Chord to Keep U. S. Post

By EUNICE BLAKE

One day George Tibbitts was at an auction sale where a number of wax figures intended to show women's drapery were being sold, and, fancying the expression on the face of one of them, he bid a trifling amount on it just for fun, he said. To his surprise the figure was knocked down to him. He ordered it sent home and when it came carried it up to his room. His sister, Fredrica, stood looking on wonder struck.

"Permit me to introduce my wife," he said, with mock impressiveness. "Let's dress her up to see how she looks."

Fredrica assented, and the figure was promptly attired. There it stood in a corner, and every time George entered the room he was greeted with a smile.

"By Jove," he exclaimed, "I wonder if this isn't better than the real thing! No scowl, no curtain lecture, no jealousy—all smiles."

One of Fredrica's former schoolmates came to visit her. George on being presented regretted that Mrs. Tibbitts was indisposed and not fit to make an appearance to welcome the new arrival.

"Why," said the guest to Fredrica, "I didn't know your brother was married."

George gave his sister a look, and she turned the subject.

A few days later the guest, Miss Eleanor Trevor, asked George how his wife was getting on.

"Poorly," replied George. "The truth is the day of your arrival a fire was built on the hearth, and it was too hot for her. She is disfigured, I fear, forever." The last words were said lugubriously.

"What a pity! Was she badly burned?"

"Her nose is all gone," He wiped away what was supposed to be a tear.

Notwithstanding this misfortune, George at times was very cheerful. His sister asked him what he was driving at with her friend, and George said that he wished to win her sympathy.

Just now it was on account of his wife's misfortune. By and by it would be on account of his being tied to a disfigured woman. He told Fredrica that if she would keep mum he would give her something pretty.

One day George came downstairs evidently much excited and reported to Fredrica and Eleanor that Bianca—that was the name he gave his wife—had fallen against the corner of a bureau and one of her eyes had been knocked out.

"Poor fellow!" exclaimed Eleanor. "I mean, poor woman!"

George looked at his sister, as much as to say, "Didn't I tell you so?"

The next day George came to Eleanor, looking almost happy. She asked him what new trouble had come upon him.

"I've been cruelly deceived," he said. "By whom?"

"Bianca. She never told me she had a glass eye. It was knocked out by her fall, and I found it on the floor."

"That's too bad," said the sympathetic girl. She was thinking what a sad case it was for George to be tied up to a woman whose nose had been disfigured and who wore a glass eye. But the worst of it all was that the poor boy had been deceived.

Eleanor was curious to see Mrs. Tibbitts, but George declared that she would see no one unless a new nose could be spliced on to her face, and since the accident she had not been able to wear her glass eye. He seemed inclined to console himself with Miss Trevor, and Miss Trevor had not the heart to refuse to console so unfortunate a man. Eleanor told Fredrica that she feared she would be blamed in the matter, but Fredrica assured her that she was perfectly right to do what she could to alleviate her brother's misfortune.

George grew devoted to Eleanor in proportion as his wife met with new misfortunes. One day the poor woman eliminated one of her cheeks with a hot curling iron; the next she burned off a lot of her hair by getting too near a gas jet. Indeed, it seemed that presently the only pretty thing about her would be her name.

Then Bianca was stricken with smallpox, and the last agony of this series of misfortunes came one evening when George announced in a broken voice that Bianca's pure soul had gone to heaven. Eleanor did not stop to think that a woman who had deceived a lover with a glass eye could hardly be called a pure soul. She put her arms around the widower to comfort him, and somehow or other their cheeks grazed. Fredrica says their lips met.

"You may see her," said George. "Her disfigurements make no difference now."

With his arm around his comforter's waist, Fredrica behind stuffing her handkerchief into her mouth to keep from laughing aloud, the three went up to George's room. There on the bed lay Bianca staring up at the ceiling with her remaining eye, her face much melted away by too close contiguity to various fires. Eleanor disengaged herself from George with an angry look on her face, but Fredrica put her arms about her friend's neck and pacified her.

To tell the truth, pacification was not needed. Eleanor had suffered herself to become attached to one she supposed to be a married man, and the finding that he was free was a great relief. In a few minutes she was laughing with the others.

In the Days Gone By. The father of a football player must feel a thrill of pride to think of the times gone by when he could promise the boy a licking with confidence in his ability to make good.
